

COMPANY PRIVACY POLICY

Marair is committed to the protection of personal privacy. Our commitment to Privacy is demonstrated by our adhering to the 10 National Privacy Principles as outlined in the 1988 Privacy Act.

The personal information we collect is for the administration of providing you with our goods and services and to enhance and develop our relationship with you. The information we collect typically consists of contact details and job title or position.

We will collect only information that is relevant and necessary and will collect the information in an unobtrusive manner. The information will not be used for any purpose other than that for which it was collected. From time to time we may need to disclose your information to service providers, agents, contractors and strategic partners to help us provide and market our services to you. If we do this we require these parties to protect your information the same way we do.

You are not required to provide us with any personal information when dealing with us. However, you need to be aware we may not be able to notify you in the event of any product recalls, or any product delivery issues.

At Marair we use a variety of physical and electronic security measures including restricting physical access to our offices, firewalls and secure databases to keep personal information secure from misuse, loss or unauthorised use or disclosure.

The Internet is not a secure environment. If you send us information, including your email address, via the internet, it is sent at your own risk.

You have the right to access the personal information we hold about you. Please contact us to ask for access to your information or if you have a complaint concerning the privacy of your information. If you would like more information about our approach to privacy, please contact us at:

Address
Privacy Officer
Marair Dangerous Goods Specialists Pty Ltd

Telephone hotline
For information about any of our products, call our hotline on 1800 677 721